

CSA International and OnSpeX Monitor Product Recalls to Help Protect Consumers

We rely on global supply chains to provide safe products to the market. Since January 1998, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has issued 3,428 product recalls and Health Canada has issued 493. Part of what we do every day at CSA International is to monitor these recalls, become involved if they bear the CSA certification mark and take lessons learned back into the standards development process.

Keeping Consumers Safer

Product Recalls Issued by Health Canada and CPSC – North America

Source: CPSC Annual Performance and Accountability Reports (1998-2008), Health Canada Consumer Product Recalls